

Keith Berelowitz, MSc, Director of Operations at Richmond Pharmacology

Keith Berelowitz has played an instrumental role in the operational setting up and implementation of more than 250 studies. His specialist area of interest has focused on the assessment and delivery of early phase patient trials in a Phase I environment.

In his role as Director of Operations at Richmond Pharmacology, he is focused on the commercial management of the studies, the efficiency of the company's functions and oversight of the healthy volunteer and patient recruitment division.

Keith is a member of the National Research Ethics Service Phase 1 Advisory Group (Health Research Authority, UK), Vice Chair of the Fulham Research Ethics Committee and a member of the Association for Human Pharmacology in the Pharmaceutical Industry (AHPPI, UK) and a UK representative of the EUCROF Extended Executive Board.